

Local 'Flops' Inspected by State 'Boes'

By FRANCES GIBSON

Walt Drysdale and Harry Marks decided to get first-hand information about the "dregs" of the city's society. As a step toward "plumbing the depths" they made arrangements to stay a night in a flop house.

They chose one and found the price ranged from fifteen cents to a quarter. The rooms were small cubicles. Marks said, "The stench was terrific. We didn't mind the smell, but when it gets in your eyes."

Fellows Register

Finally they ended up at a flop house run by the city. Here, after the men register, they are sent to a cleaning unit where all their clothes are cleaned. They are examined by doctors and made to take baths.

After they had been assigned cots, Drysdale and Marks looked around at the other men in the room.

"We espied a man about six bunks from us who was apparently dead drunk," said Drysdale. "Our neighbor said, 'Oh, he's a guy bound. Cheap drug stores buy alcohol from hospitals which has been used to preserve bodies and specimens. Fifteen cents worth, and you're drunk.'"

No Sleep Secured

"At nine o'clock the lights went out and we lay down, fully dressed," Marks continued. "We couldn't sleep. Our imaginations ran riot all evening."

"When morning came we followed the men to the municipal kitchen. We were given mush, coffee, and six slices of bread. The mush was lumpy and tasteless; it gagged us. Some of the men ate like wolves, but others seemed to be forcing themselves to eat. Soon the floor was littered with food. It reminded us of a pig pen."

"We were glad to get out and did ham and eggs in a respectable restaurant taste good."

Thus ended a noble experiment for the advance of the Education 186 class.

Election of A. W. S. Officers Scheduled

Jorain Withers, president of Associated Women Students, announces that the President's Day, March 27, will take the place of the planned A. W. S. mass meetings of this term. Due to the extensive work that women are doing towards furthering the success of the day, it will be impossible to work out convenient dates for the meetings. Because of this change, Miss Withers particularly asks the women to support the President's Day program.

Election of new officers in the women students group will take place the second week of April. Campaigning may be done during the first week of the month and all petitions must be in to Miss Withers, Box 116, or Mildred Roof, Box 1065, by Wednesday, March 27. Candidates for president and vice-president must be seniors and women running for secretary and treasurer, from the junior class. Petitions may be obtained from the student body office.

Executive Board

The twenty-fifth regular meeting of the Executive Board was called to order by President Cliff. The following members were noted absent: Miss Withers and Mr. Peterson. The minutes were read and approved.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Executive Board Dinner—The Fall '33 and Spring '34 members of the Board, the newly elected members, and the faculty will attend the dinner.

Miss Davis and Mr. Davis are to select the faculty guests. The dinner must be held at the Executive Board dinner. The dinner will be held at the Executive Board dinner.

Activities Room—It was regularly moved and seconded that the room be moved to the main floor of the College Hall. The room will be moved to the main floor of the College Hall.

President Cliff suggested that Mr. Kilkenny interview Mr. Marples about buying furniture for the Activities Room from the Book Store and Co-op fund.

Fees—Mr. Cliff reported that the Committee had decided to request Dr. Roberts to permit Student Body fees to be raised from $2.50 to $3.00 per semester, for needed additional funds.

OLD BUSINESS

It was reported that the "Franciscan" had insufficient funds for individual pictures of class presidents. The class presidents decided to raise the money themselves for the pictures.

Election—The following changes or additions were made in dates. The nominations rally was changed from April 2 to April 3, to be held between 10 and 12 o'clock, in the gymnasium. It was decided to hold the awards rally April 24 between 12 and 2 o'clock.

Campaign week is to begin March 26, rather than March 22.

It was regularly moved and seconded that all candidates be limited to two regulation size posters indoors, to be placed only on the main floor of College Hall north of the clock, and one outside poster with no regulations. The motion was defeated.

It was regularly moved and seconded that the two inside posters be placed only on the main floor north of the clock and on the second floor of College Hall with no regulations on outside posters. The motion carried with some dissenting votes.

It was regularly moved and seconded that Mr. Beech be written a letter informing him that the subject of units had been reconsidered, but the Board still held to its former decision. The motion carried.

It was regularly moved and seconded that no candidate who is a high senior be allowed to run for office unless he can produce a written statement from the Registrar's office that year's work is required before he may receive his degree. The motion carried.

It was regularly moved and seconded that a count of the votes be published. The motion carried.

NEW BUSINESS
As the Golden Gate Junior College is using "Gaters" as a sports name, Mr. Davis and Mr. Moscone volunteered to investigate.

Mr. Kilkenny announced Junior Day is to be March 23, and the Junior Picnic will be April 1.

It was regularly moved and seconded that a letter be written to the Co-op requesting that no student who is not a member of the Constitution be allowed to play on inter-school teams, to become effective August, 1934. The motion carried unanimously.

As there was no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,
LOIS SHAW, Secretary.

Beta Junior College Convention Sponsored by Local Fraternity

State's chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma, national journalistic fraternity, sponsored the Beta Phi Gamma (national junior college journalistic fraternity) at a convention held last Saturday in San Francisco. The purpose of the meeting was to introduce Beta Phi Gamma to northern California. J. P. Beason, Jr., national president of Beta Phi Gamma, was chairman and led a discussion on the purpose of the meeting. Jack Smith, national president of Alpha Phi Gamma, pointed out the relations between Alpha Phi Gamma and Beta Phi Gamma. Mr. Ted Ellsworth, executive secretary of both fraternities, talked on the financial situation of both groups. Miss Gladys Snyder, of Pasadena Junior College, vice-president of Beta Phi Gamma, and Mrs. Glenn Merryfield, of San Bernardino Valley Junior College, chairman of the extension committee, who were scheduled to speak on subjects pertaining to the proposed expansion plans of the junior college groups and its purposes, were unable to attend.

All the junior colleges of northern California were invited to attend. Santa Rosa Junior College, a tentative member, unable to attend, communicated their regrets, but signified their intention to go on with the plans for their entrance into the organization. They were brought in as the Zeta chapter. Hollister Junior College sent three delegates. Their group was installed as Epsilon chapter.

Plans for a three-day picnic to be held next month among San Francisco and Fresno State Teachers' Colleges, and College of the Pacific at Stockton were completed at the convention. The point of meeting for the affair will be decided upon later.

Senior Dinner Dance to be Held at Club

The first meeting of the high senior class was held at a dinner in the College cafeteria on Tuesday night, March 13, from 5 to 7 o'clock.

"The reason for having the meeting at such a time was to give all the members of the class a chance to attend. It is only a small number of the members of the class who are able to attend the meetings at any other time. We want meetings like the last one are going to be held in the future because of its success," says Paul Gemagnini, senior president.

The main object of the meeting was to decide where the high senior class dinner dance will be given. It was decided at a previous meeting that it would be given at the Palace Hotel, but the dance committee decided later that it would be better to have it at a club where there is more privacy.

There are no definite plans for the dance as yet, but the St. Francis Yacht Club is being considered as a possible place to give it. The date has been set for Thursday night, April 12.

ORGANIZATION & ACTIVITIES

Epsilon Mu, music club, will present Daniel Popovich, pianist, assisted by James Robinson, baritone, in an informal recital at its regular meeting tomorrow noon in Room 117. Popovich has recently won a fellowship at the Juillard Graduate School of Music, has studied under Josef Lhevinne, Percy Grainger, Richard McClanahan (New York representative of Tobias Matthay), and Benjamin S. Moore.

Chester Beck, president of Epsilon Mu, argues students interested in piano music to take advantage of this opportunity to hear some of the finer piano works. Details concerning the semi-annual pledge tea and initiation will be discussed. Dorothy Crosbie, general chairman of the pledge tea to be held on April 6, has announced the following committee: Jean Innes, invitations; Alice Mercer, entertainments; Dorothy Buickerood, refreshments; and Jeanette Bastin, decorations.

New members of the Student Advisory Council are to be signed up during the week beginning March 26. Names are to be taken in Dean Ward's outer office by a committee under the chairmanship of Betty Meadowcroft. Members of this committee are John Keeler, Madeline Sousa, and Ethel Bennett. The main prerequisite for membership on the council is an active interest in the work of the council and a desire to co-operate in their activities, especially at the time of registration.

Miss Meadowcroft has asked that all former members of the council who are practicing teachers now but who plan to be active this next semester to get in touch with one of the above mentioned committee members.

Members of the Siena Club and the Phi Lambda Chi, both of which are members of the housing council for women and girls, recently attended a lecture sponsored by the Emanuel-Sisterhood.

This is a yearly affair given to raise funds for the continuation of the work done by this Jewish organization. The celebrated Chronicle artist, Wolo, was the speaker. His talk dealt with his experiences connected with his "I Saw You" column. At the conclusion he drew enlargements of human interest pictures and presented them to lucky ticket holders in the audience.

Noted Novelist Interviewed by Ed. 186 Student

Interesting projects are at present being carried out by Ed. 186 students, according to Mr. S. L. Brown, associate professor education. Each pupil is given a topic, must contact a given number of important personalities and places connected with the topic assigned, and hand in a written report.

Lived in City

Recently Miss Jean Stover, an Ed. 186 student who has "San Francisco Personalities" as a topic, interviewed Gertrude Atherton, novelist. She gives an entertaining account of her visit to Miss Atherton's home, which is situated on the southwest corner of Laguna and California Streets. Upon Miss Stover's arrival, the author graciously ushered her into her living room, which is in itself a scene of extreme interest, the walls being lined with shelves of books, autographed pictures, and bric-a-brac which she has brought home from her travels around the world.

Miss Stover spent over an hour and a half with the novelist, whom she describes as plump and short with deep blue eyes. She arranges her hair in a unique fashion, bringing it down in a fold over her forehead. Books and flowers, moving pictures, art, and interesting people were only a few of the many things discussed during this hour. When asked to discuss her life, Miss Atherton dismissed that part of the interview by saying that she has written Adventures of a Novelist, an autobiography.

Author Describes Book

However, she gives an interesting incident in regard to Resinoid, a book which she wrote at the request of a publishing company. She wanted to write a book about the place where she and her daughter's home in Belvedere, Marin County. She did not know exactly what she was going to write about, but one day, while looking out of the window in the attic where she had established herself, the sight of the bay and San Francisco streets and below her brought to her mind the life of Resinoid as a subject for her book. It so happened that this day on which she started the book was the 10th anniversary of her arrival in the bay region.

Miss Stover declared, "I went away from the interview feeling very much pleased. Miss Atherton is a real person, full of energy and vitality, and always looking to the future, almost never back."

Luke Visits State and Barks, Yelps

Would you howl if you were stranded in a desk drawer? So did "Luke," the dog who barked and yelped from the interview feeling very much pleased.

"Pipe down, dog. This is my office, too," came the answer to his cries. But the walls continued and grew even stronger.

The dog opened and out trotted Luke, a big-footed, brown curly-haired, bob-tailed, young water spaniel, feeling very proud of himself and anxious to make his presence known.

"Raise all the terror you wish!" he advised. Eagerly he started out, but when his reporters stopped him, petted him, and returned him to his home in the drawer.

Miss Mary E. Kleinecke, of the English department, cleared up the mystery. Miss Kleinecke shares the office of the spaniel owner.

It seems that Luke is the pet puppy of Mrs. Ruth S. Witt-Diamant, assistant professor of English. Mrs. Witt-Diamant believes that a huge clean desk drawer is an ideal home for a nice puppy like "Luke" when she is busy teaching a class. But the last time she heard of him (from the far end of the upstairs hall) he was still loudly protesting.

Defects Checked

What is wrong with State Teachers College students, and why? Taking advantage of the FERA funds that have just become available, Dr. Edna Locke Barney, medical director, and professor of biological science, has employed a girl to look up about 1000 cases of physical defects that they have been unable to check up on before, but now with the FERA this has been made possible.

Dr. Barney has a girl looking up the correctable cases of bad vision, teeth, and cardiac defects. This check-up also reveals the care given by the high schools to the students having these physical maladjustments. "This project," says Dr. Barney, "is an excellent one, and also will keep check upon the health of State students."

No Golden Gate will appear next Wednesday, March 28, due to the spring holiday.

Journalism Fraternity Officers

Alpha Phi Gamma to Hold Next Meeting at Home of Dr. Kinnaird

One of the projects on which Alpha Gamma chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalistic fraternity, is working on this year is that of choosing the three most important news stories of the year that are published in United States newspapers. Each chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma is to select the three stories they consider the most important. These are then to be sent to the national headquarters, where they will be tabulated and the three winning stories will be announced over Associated Press wires.

Membership in Alpha Phi Gamma is based on unusual work in journalism. At the last meeting a group of students were made members of the fraternity. They include: Jean Webb, Elsa Magnus, Clarence Dechent, Estelle Sampson, Beverly Lyon, Stanley Sieber, Ronald Paganon, and Mary Tuck.

This Saturday evening several more journalists are to be pledged at a meeting in Berkeley at the home of Dr. Lawrence Kinnaird, assistant professor of history and sponsor of the chapter.

The pledges are: Jean Gilmour, Frances Gibson, Charles Britten, Dallas Blackiston, Nadezda Lawrence, George Clark, and Grace Rankin.

The active membership of the club consists of Harry Marks, president; Junetta Gregg, Gail Andrews, president; Griffiths, Fred Wiseman, Lorraine Walsh, Dan Baker, and Jimmy Stinchcomb.

Yesterday Alpha Phi Gamma presented a debate by two newspaper men, Paul Smith, financial editor of the Chronicle, who upheld his position and is worth as compared to that of Harry B. Smith, Chronicle sports editor, who upheld his side of the question. Both men are considered among the best authorities in their respective fields.

These monthly speakers are secured by Harold Martin, publicity chairman for the Alpha Gamma chapter. Mr. Martin is, at present, convalescing from illness. He was at San Francisco Hospital.

Thrift Shop Given Opening Celebration By Honorary Group

To mark the opening of its Thrift Shop at 631 Haight Street, Epsilon chapter of Delta Phi Upsilon national honorary fraternity of early childhood education, and the S. F. Alumnae Association held open house for the college faculty and students from 2 to 5 p.m. on Friday, March 16.

Visitors were shown through the shop by members of the fraternity, who acted as hostesses. The store in which the Thrift Shop is located has been entirely redecorated by the girls themselves.

Among the many articles already donated and displayed for sale at prices ranging from one cent to one dollar are all kinds of clothing for men, women and children. There are also toys, furniture, art goods, dishes, gifts, and novelties.

Through this activity the organization hopes to establish a fund for use in doing philanthropic work for young children. The group also hopes that in the near future they may be able to give some part time employment to students of the college.

Offering for sale, at a very small price, greatly needed articles, such as clothing, it is felt that this activity will be of real benefit to a needy group of people.

The members of the board of directors of the Thrift Shop are: Olive Scott, chairman; Emmeline Purdie, Bess Burns, Ruth Passou, Dorothy McGuffin, Lois Lake, Alma Eckler, Marion Woolley, Jean McDonnell, Claire Paulsen, and Marie Stanton. Miss Alice Alcutt and Miss Lynette Maas are advisers to the group. Mrs. George Osterhorst has been secured as manager of the store.

Local Spellers Win Candy in Contest

D-I-L-A-P-I-D-A-T-E-D — C-H-A-N-G-E-A-B-L-E — emerged slowly and uncertainly from the mouths of 15A English students last Friday. Mrs. Blanche Ellsworth, assistant professor of English, inaugurated the old fashioned custom of a spelling bee. Every detail was faithfully followed out with designated leaders having chosen their sides. Mrs. Ellsworth, in true magician style, brought out of nowhere, prizes—three bars of milk chocolate.

"Irresistible" and "Divisible" were two of the stumbling blocks to the students. At last only four were left; of these, two were finally defeated by means of a Girls' High Spelling List. The 2 o'clock bell saved Peggy Cleg-horn and Credella Nicholson, who tied for first place. Stanford Christian received the other bar.

Delta Sigma to Have Radio Tilt With St. Mary's

Henry Glass and Joseph Stell of State's freshman debating team will meet the U. S. F. frosh team in the Activities Room, tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. The question to be argued will deal with the powers of the President. State defending the affirmative. Dorothy Skelly, Delta Sigma vice-president, will be chairman.

To illustrate the increasing prestige of Delta Sigma, Robert Van Houtte will participate in a radio debate with K.A. through the courtesy of the Hearst papers, on April 2, at 2:15 p.m.

This is the second radio debate in which State has participated. In the summer of 1932, representatives of Delta Sigma met tauromachists from San Jose State in a non-decision debate.

Eugene O'Neill and his influence on American culture is the novel subject of a debate between S. F. State and the University of Montana, projected for Tuesday evening, April 3, in Fredric Burl Auditorium.

O'Neill to Be Subject
Montana will maintain the attitude that O'Neill's influence has been for good, while State will defend the negative. This debate, sponsored by Delta Sigma, is a novel in subject and style, as the English form of debate will be used. This type is informal, with no time limit set for the speakers. Humor and wit are frequently used to illustrate points and to persuade the audience.

The argument will center in the play of O'Neill and their depiction of American life. Some comparison will be made with the Greek dramatists whom O'Neill has challenged in "Desire Under the Elms" and "Mourning Becomes Electra."

The main issues will probably be the psychological development of his characters, and the effect of his masterful picturing of their warped and tortured souls.

Plans are being made to make the debate interesting to the entire English department. Dr. Elias T. Arnesen and Mr. Edward Cassidy are assisting the local speakers in marshaling their arguments. Miss Mary Kiencke, chairman of the department, has approved the idea of making the debate a departmental occasion.

Welcome Tea Held By Franciscan Club

Recently the Franciscan Club gave a welcome tea for their new members. Plans for the rest of this term were discussed at that time.

The last meeting of the club was held Friday, March 16, in the Activities Room. The purpose of this meeting was to bring new members into the club, to bring their lunches and tea was served.

The members decided that this type of meeting be made a regular policy of the organization. Hereafter these teas will be held every two weeks in the Activities Room. Due to vacation Friday, March 30, the next meeting will be held Friday, April 6.

Mrs. Lucy Weeks, president of the Franciscan Club, announced that there are at present twenty women in the organization.

SWIMMERS MEET "Y" AT PRESIDIO FRIDAY

State Swim Team Loses To Spartans

San Jose Mermen Crack Two Pool Records During Meet

Unaccustomed to the gruelling list of events demanded by the Inter-collegiate Athletic Association, the San Francisco State mermen afforded little competition to Charlie Walker's Spartan swimmers, and were downed to the tune of 70 to 13, Wednesday evening in the San Jose pool.

Two new school records were set by the Spartan swimmers during the course of the meet. The first record to tumble was the 400-yard relay. The San Jose team of Fitzgerald, Platt, Draper, and Ambrose swam the event in 3:59.8 to surpass their old record by more than ten seconds. The second record came when Fitzgerald swimming the 440 against a stop watch covered the seventeen laps in 5:59.6, bettering the old mark by 33 seconds.

Most Exciting Race

The 50-yard sprint event was the only race of the evening that proved thrilling to the spectators. The event was swum in 26.4 with less than two yards separating the four swimmers at the finish.

The diving was the most disheartening event on the program. It was marked by poor scoring and less than mediocre performances. The most discouraging part of the whole performance was the poor sportsmanship displayed by the San Jose rosters when a Gater man made a poor dive. The rosters caused the Spartan officials and coaches much embarrassment, and the San Jose State Times flayed the spectators for their lack of good taste.

Varsity Swimmers Lose to Galileo High

The Gaters again took the count Friday night when they bowed to the Galileo High School swimmers, 45 to 19. Bill Aubel took the Gater's lone money place by coping a second in the 100-yard breast stroke. Rudy Rudd surprised Coach Harden by his exhibition in the quarter mile swim. Rudd covered the distance in a shade over 6 minutes. Jack Loupe was the outstanding mermen for the high school. Loupe took a first in the 220, first in the 440, and swam a lap in the relay.

Tonight the Gater mermen meet the Menlo Junior College outfit at Menlo. This meet will be the Gater's first chance with nearly equal collegiate competition. Friday night the swimmers meet with the Presidio "Y" team at the "Y" pool in the Presidio. The students are invited to attend this meet. The first event will start at 7:30 p. m.

Summary of the San Jose meet follows:

400-yard relay, won by San Jose, time, 3:59.8 (new pool record). 200-yard breast stroke, won by Houser (San Jose), Lynn (San Jose) second, Aubel (State), third. 150-yard backstroke, won by Draper (San Jose), Smith (San Jose), second; Wolleson (State), third. 50-yard freestyle, won by Ambrose (San Jose), Sherwin (San Jose), second; Beach (State), third. 440-yard free style, won by Fitzgerald (San Jose), Condit (San Jose), second; time, 5:59.9 (new school record). 100-yard freestyle, won by MacQuarrie (San Jose), Bateman (San Jose), second; Wills (State), third. Diving, won by Kinsley (San Jose), York (San Jose), second; Holmes (State) third. 220-yard freestyle, won by Ambrose (San Jose), Platt (San Jose), second; Rudd (State), third. 300-yard medley relay, won by San Jose.

Huge Play Day To Be Held on Campus, April 14

Mill Valley Hike This Sunday at 8:30 a. m. —Meet at Ferry

San Francisco State's Women's Athletic Association is undertaking a big project in their plans for their Play Day, April 14. San Jose, State, San Mateo Junior College, and San Francisco will be participants in this affair which will take place on this campus. The delegates from the out-of-town colleges are going to be invited to a dinner and entertainment Friday night preceding the play day. The visitors will stay at the homes of State women for the night. The sports and athletic demonstrations will be on the local campus Saturday.

Plans are being made to have the dinner at the Bellevue Hotel. Kappa Delta Tau will give a dance presentation, Frederic Burk high grammars are going to present an operetta, the Bib and Tucker plan to put on a sports parade, the Music Federation will furnish the music and play a special number at the College Theater's production, "Death Takes a Holiday," which the visitors will attend as guests of the State's W. A. A. and student body.

Play Plans Completed

Tumbling Class to Perform

The active phase of the play day will start at 9 o'clock and will continue through the luncheon at 12:30. This period of the project will be featured by demonstrations by the folk dancing, tumbling, and fencing groups. Baseball, basketball, handball, tennis, and indoor games will be run off after the demonstrations. There will be recreational swimming at the Y. W. C. A. in the afternoon until 4 o'clock.

Committee Heads for Play Day Announced

All the stunts will be done to music accompaniment. Adelia Spangenberg, who is the accompanist for Kappa Delta Tau and the dancing classes, will improvise the music for performance.

The committee heads chosen to assist in the play day are Gunvor Hansen, welcome; Dorris Nystrom, program; Nancy Raymond, publicity; Evelyn Harris, invitations; Francis Jones, registration; Edna Calagone, folk dancing; Vera Simon, bugler; Lorraine Lindberg, equipment; Doris Melnesky, officials; Alta Dyer, decorations; Helen Lillard, luncheon; Pearl Garcia, entertainment, and Alys Hughes, songs. Officers of the W. A. A. board will assist in all the work of the planned programs.

Hike to Mill Valley This Sunday at 8:30

A hike to Mill Valley is planned for next Sunday, March 25. All women are invited to come. Those interested should sign up on the poster in College Hall by Friday afternoon. The group will meet under the clock at the Ferry Building at 8:30 a. m. The trip will cost each woman 40 cents. Hot coffee will be served but everyone will have to bring their own lunch.

Edna Hoeffler, manager of handball, requests that all the women signed up for the sport to please play off their matches immediately. Although it is a ladder tournament, every woman may play anyone listed above her, not necessarily the one just preceding her.

Gater Tracksters Defeated by San Jose Cinder Men

Donohue Wins 440 Race —State Gets Clean Sweep in Spear

Taking every running race except one and breaking up the Gater's strong field combination, the San Jose Spartans scored a 89½ to 41½ victory in an unexciting track meet Saturday.

San Francisco was able to take only three firsts, and a tie for first, out of the fifteen events on the program. Ed Donohue's victory in the 440 was the lone track win. Ray Allee in the shot, Berger Johnson in the javelin, and Hal Garden's tie for first in the high jump, rounded out the balance of the Gater victories.

Donohue Celebrates St. Patrick's Day

It was St. Patrick's Day, and Ed Donohue rose to great heights to win the quarter mile in grand style. Donohue trailed Arjo closely until the last turn, then he opened up and took the lead to the tape by yards. The time, 5:16, is Donohue's best, and indicates that he is capable of stepping in fast company.

Ray Allee, the dependable, came through to win the shot with plenty to spare. His mark of 47 feet 9 inches would have been good enough to win a majority of meets in the so-called big time college circles. Pomerantz took the second place in this event with a 45-foot toss.

Field Men Get Sweep in Javelin

The Gaters scored their only clean sweep of the day in the javelin throw. Berger Johnson, Dick Curtis, and Don Jones was the order of place takers. Johnson's winning heave went out 183 feet 3 inches. Not bad, but he has done better.

The 100-yard dash and the furlong dashes proved to be the upsets of the meet. Ed Henry, ace speed burner, was doped to win at least one of these, if not both. The best Henry turned in was a pair of third places. It was just a case of too much Salvo and Taylor, a couple of fast men on any sprint team.

F. W. C. Champ Double Winner

Al Salvo, Far Western champion, ran the century in 9.9, and the 220 in 21.4. The latter time is exceptionally good. Doug Taylor, No. 2 man for San Jose in both sprints, took the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet 11 inches, to give him a total of eleven digits and the high point honors of the day.

Bill Marcus of San Jose outthrew the Gater darts, may to his surprise victory. The dopesters didn't even give the Spartans a third place in this event, basing their opinion on past records. All three of the Gater weight men have thrown the disc more than 132 feet 6 inches, but the best throw of Owen Jones, second place winner, was around 129 feet.

High jumping has been the weakness of the squad all season, but Hal Garden has been coming along fast, and made 5 feet 10 inches to tie for first place. Garden's form has been improving and he greatly strengthens this event.

Meet Summary

100-yard dash, Salvo (S.J.), first; Taylor (S.J.), second; Henry (S.J.), third. Time, 9.9.

220-yard dash, Salvo (S.J.), first; Taylor (S.J.), second; Henry (S.J.), third. Time, 21.4.

440-yard dash, Donohue (S.), first; Arjo (S.J.), second; Provan (S.J.), third. Time, 5:16.

880-yard run, Oren (S.J.), first; Connelly (S.), second; Murphy (S.), third. Time, 2:09.4.

1 mile run, Higgins (S.J.), first; Oren (S.J.), second; Clemm (S.J.), third. Time, 5:01.5.

Two-mile run, Lynch (S.J.), first; Valadez (S.), second; Davis (S.), third. Time, 10:34.1.

Low hurdles, Murphy (S.J.), first; Hayes (S.J.), second; Kaufman (S.), third. Time, 15.5.

Broad jump, Taylor (S.J.), first; Watson (S.J.), second; Bennett (S.J.), third. Distance, 22 feet 11 inches.

High jump, Garden (S.) and Marquis (S.J.), tied for first; Gelatt (S.) and Murphy (S.J.), tied for third. Height, 5 feet 10 inches.

Pole vault, Watson (S.J.), first; Stevens (S.J.), second; Prouty (S.J.), third. Height, 12 feet 6 inches.

Shot put, Allee (S.), first; Pomerantz (S.), second; Raymond (S.J.), third. Distance, 47 feet 9 inches.

Javelin, Johnson (S.), first; Curtis (S.), second; D. Jones (S.), third. Distance, 183 feet 3 inches.

Relay—Won by San Jose State.

California Grid Coach To Be Guest

—Courtesy San Francisco Chronicle

Bill Ingram, head football mentor of the University of California, will be a guest speaker at the President's Day assembly this Friday. Ingram has made a study of the small college athletic situation, and has selected that topic for his talk. Ingram is a widely known figure in national athletics and is well versed on his subject. It will be a treat to hear him.

Net Team Take Santa Clara 7-2

Showing for the first time this season the form of which they are capable, State's tennis team won a decisive 7-2 victory over Santa Clara's racket wielders on the valley courts Saturday morning. The Gater squad hit their stride to show a new brand of tennis, dropping but one singles and doubles encounter.

In a return match with San Mateo, played on the Peninsula courts Friday, State succumbed to the tune of 8-0. John Arlington and Ronald English were the only Gaters who captured a set from the Bulldogs. In the first encounter, on the local courts, two weeks ago the junior college boys just topped the purple and gold team by a 5-4 score.

The results of the matches were:

Singles

John Arlington (S.) defeated Buckley (S. C.), 6-3, 6-3.

Nathan Silen (S.) defeated Dougherty (S. C.), 6-4, 6-4.

Doubles

Vizzolini and Buckley (S. C.) defeated Jones and English (S.), 4-6, 6-3, and 6-3.

Gugat and Fairbanks (S.) defeated Rohe and Schmidt (S. C.), 9-7, 6-2.

Arlington and Silen (S.) defeated Ospine and Dougherty (S. C.), 6-3, and 6-2.

Vizzolini (S. C.) defeated Don Jones (S.), 7-5.

Fred Gugat (S.) defeated Schmidt (S. C.), 6-3, 2-6, 6-2.

Ronald English (S.) defeated Rohe (S. C.), 6-3, 6-2.

Cecil Fairbanks (S.) defeated Ospine (S. C.), 6-3, 6-1.

The results of the San Mateo encounter were:

Singles

White (S. M.) defeated Jones (S.), 6-1, 6-0.

Gugat (S.), 6-1, 6-2; Vetter (S. M.) defeated English (S.), 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Meyer (S. M.) defeated Fairbanks (S.), 6-1, 6-3; Shoemaker (S. M.) defeated Selen (S.), 6-3, 7-5; Frigoli (S. M.) defeated Arlington (S.), 7-9, 6-2, 6-3.

Doubles

White and Goldman (S. M.) defeated Jones and English (S.), 6-1, 6-2; Vetter and Meyer (S. M.) defeated Fairbanks and Gugat (S.), 6-0, 6-4.

Olympiad Book Loaned

According to Dick Davis, athletic manager, the library has a copy of the Xth Olympiad book. The journal was loaned to the library by Bill Manger, a State student. It is available at the loan desk. Several special features are included in the book concerning the track and swimming events. It will only be in the library for a short, limited time, so the interested students are requested to use the book only the necessary time and to keep it in the best of condition.

Gaters and Modesto Jaysee Will Tangle Saturday at Kezar

Close Contest Expected With Jaysee Stars—Meet Starts at 2

Editor's Note: Once again a rival scribe writes a story for us. This track story was written by Arthur Stokes, "Modesto Collegian" sports editor. The dope sheet was figured by Harold Martin, sports department publicity manager, while on the sick bed. If you lose any money on the meet see Harold and not the sports department. It's a pretty safe bet though, he called the last one within 10 points.

San Francisco State's track and field team will face tough competition again this week-end. The Gater spikesters will tangle with Modesto Junior College Saturday at Kezar Stadium, and the battle for points may develop into a miniature war before the meet is over. Hostilities will start at 2 o'clock.

There is at least one debatable point in nearly every event. The outstanding feature of the meet will be the javelin throwing contest between Ray Churchill, Modesto's national junior college champion, and Berger Johnson, Gater star. Churchill consistently tossed the spear around 210 feet last year, but has not been able to reach the 190 mark this season. Johnson has a throw of 191 feet 6 inches to his credit and may be able to break that record Saturday.

Sprint Events Will Be Close

A close finish is almost certain in both of the sprint events. Coach Fred Earle, Modesto mentor, boasts of a high-class runner in Bob Strombaugh, who has been timed at 10.2 seconds in the century and 22.2 in the furlong. These marks are slightly slower than Ed Henry's early season performances, but previous records mean very little when two stars collide. The battle for third places in both of these races should also be close with Jack Bean of State and Andy Bertucci of Modesto fighting for the odd point.

Ed Donohue's great performance in the quarter mile against San Jose should earn the respect of his opponent Saturday. Donohue finished like a cyclone last week and was clocked at 5:16 seconds, his best time yet. His big threat from Modesto will be Lyle Jamieson, who has run the 440 in 50.8, according to Arthur Stokes, "Modesto Collegian" sports editor.

Ken Wilkes May Win Hurdles

Harvey Williams may run for the Gaters in the half mile, and he does State will have a chance to cop eight valuable points. Modesto has only one entry who can break 2:10 in this event. Allan Bell will team with Williams, and both men are capable of at least 2:06 if they are in condition.

A thrilling battle is expected in the low hurdle event with Ken Wilkes, diminutive State star, matching strides with Sherwood Astin and Morris Williams, Modesto veterans. The Pirate entries were timed at 26 flat two weeks ago in an All-Star high school meet, while Wilkes ran the race in 26.1 against Golden Gate Junior College.

With the exception of the javelin, the broad jump is expected to produce the only close competition in field events. Bill Grubbs, with a leap of 21 feet 1 inch to his credit, is favored over Donohue and Wilkes, Gater entries, who have both jumped 20 feet 10 inches this season.

Varsity Ball Tossers Trounce Jefferson Hi, Galileo, Lose to Balboa

Gaters Stage Ninth Inning Rally to Defeat Galileo High—Jefferson Trounced 13 to 1—Conlan Pitches Game

Bob Marcus Leads Varsity Batters—State Wins 13 Out of 18 Games—Whitney Turns in Fourth Win of Season

By VERNON WHITNEY

Winning two games and losing one during the past week, the State baseball team increased their season record to thirteen games won and five lost, and four of the losses have been by the slim margin of two runs.

On Wednesday the Gaters played hosts to the Jefferson High Indians from Daly City. It was the second meeting of the year for the teams, the Gaters having previously triumphed, 15 to 1. This time the Gaters won 13 to 1.

On Friday, State suffered their worst defeat of the season, falling before the bats of the Balboa Buccaneers by a 7 to 2 score. On Saturday morning, the Gaters tamed the Galileo Lions 13 to 6.

State Trounces Jefferson For Twelfth Win

Vern Whitney turned in his fourth victory of the season in the Jefferson game, holding the Indians to one hit in the six-inning contest. The Gaters pounded out fourteen on their part, and tallied thirteen times in the first three innings. Bob Marcus collected three bingles in four tries, Doc Drysdale hit safely twice in three attempts, and both Joe Lee and Frank Regan had two hits in four times at bat.

The Balboa game was just a case of the Gaters making their hit count while the Gaters ran hog-wild on the bases. Balboa bunched their nine hits to score seven runs, while the Gaters could only tally twice with eleven base hits.

State's Early Lead Wiped Out by Buccaneers

George Bogdanoff, Fidel Vincenti, and Clint Purcell did the mound chores for State, and outside of the fifth inning, when Balboa put over a quartet of runs, they turned in a good job.

In the initial frame State scored two runs on Wilkes' single, Marcus' triple, and Regan's one-base knock, and it looked as if they were out to repeat their victory two weeks ago over the Bucs. But Balboa tied things up in the second, took a one-run lead in the fourth, and in the fifth the payoff came.

Kenny Wilkes Lines Out Three Hits

Kenny Wilkes banged out three hits in four times at bat, and stole two bases, and Frank Regan lined out two singles in three tries.

Gus Conlan was on the hill for State Saturday morning—this is tantamount to saying that State won another ball game. Gus turned in his fourth straight victory for the purple and gold, limiting the Galileo boys to six hits, and fanning eight.

Gaters Take Early Lead Over Galileo Lions

The Gaters squeezed home a run in the second, and in the third Wilkes homered with Conlan abating, putting State three runs to the good. Four hits in the next inning only produced a single count, and strange as it may seem, the Lions got that one back in their half without a hit, a base on balls and two infield errors doing the trick. Conlan was breezing along in great style up to this point, having allowed only one lone single in the first five innings, and striking out seven of the North Beach boys. But in the sixth Galileo lowered the boom and aim for three hits, which, coupled with a base on balls, gave them the three runs needed to tie the score.

Tie Broken in Final Inning by State

The deadlock remained until the ninth inning when with two outs Conlan doubled along the left field foul line. Kenny Wilkes tripled to put him over the platter, and after the Lion first baseman dropped an easy throw, Bogdanoff, Marcus, and Regan singled in quick succession to score two more runs.

As things turned out they were needed, for with two out in their half of the ninth, and with the fans just about ready to go home, Barsotti, the Galileo pitcher, hit a home run with a man on to put the Lions one run in the rear. Conlan relieved the tension when he struck out the final batter, and the ball game was over, State winning 7 to 6.

The Gaters drove out seventeen hits, Gus Conlan with four for four, and Ken Wilkes and Frank Regan with three for five apiece, leading the attack. George Moscone handled the keystone sack creditably, figuring as the pivot man in two fast double plays which cut off threatening rallies, besides getting two hits in four tries. Clint Purcell made a sparkling catch of a long fly ball in the first inning, and Mel Nickerson came dashing in on the dead run to snare two potential baseruns.

In the fourth inning Fidel Vincenti, State's catcher, was accidentally hit in the head with a bat by one of the Galileo players when he stooped over to pick up his mask. The blow inflicted a gash just under his right eyebrow, and necessitated the taking of several stitches in it.

Again... Dishonor System

Time and again—year after year—term after term, we have been forced to run editorials on the subject of students cheating during examinations. This term the situation is more disgusting than ever. Students who are honest used to receive fairly good grades after the average amount of study, but it is a physical impossibility for a student who is not a genius to compete with cheaters. We must acknowledge that no student could honestly think of an answer as correctly as it can be copied from a book. No honest student can verify his answers as the dishonest one does by using signs, passing notes, and even whispering.

Instructors usually pass over this serious matter with a wave of the hand saying, "We are a college. It should not be necessary for instructors to have to watch over classes like a guard over prisoners." Pityful as it may seem, that step is almost necessary. We gravely fear that the honor system could never be established at State. We haven't grown up yet. We are still children aching for the opportunity to do something behind the teacher's back, and get by with it. The instructors give us the opportunity only too often, and as a result students who keep their eyes on their own paper suffer. It is they who are trying to learn; and it is they who will probably flunk the course, because of unfair competition.

Another false statement made by the instructors is this: "The cheaters will suffer in the end." True, they may suffer by lack of knowledge of the subject, but their grades will not suffer. It is our grades that count when we apply for a teaching position. The dishonest students will be given first choice, because of better grades. There are at least a few students in the college who desire to earn their diplomas honestly.

We are begging the faculty to please be sure that the whole class is honest in examinations, so that deserving students will be given their chance. If necessary, divide the class, or have several sets of examinations run off—anything to eliminate cheating.

Meanest College Student

It is surmised that when an individual has arrived at the college stage of life he is developed socially as well as chronologically. This belief is based on the assumption that the individual's former education has taught him this necessary qualification for the successful life. Therefore it is particularly regretted when a college student must be taken to task for disregarding those standards set up by society.

We speak of that individual who is not only disregarding the established rules but who, in so doing, exalts himself to such a place that the rest of the students are placed in a hazardous position. We speak of the great "I AM" type. We are speaking of the college student who uses the library as a place to get books but not to return them.

A thief by any other term is just as despicable. But names or terms very feebly express the burning indignation and wrath one feels for the "book snatcher." He is neither kind nor courteous. He possesses neither chivalry nor magnanimity. He wallows in his own lowered degree of self-centered smugness. He has an utter lack of respect and charity. His intelligence is void; otherwise his mental capacity would have been modified, surely expanded, by a cultured environment. To him, people who believe and practice the "golden rule" are morons.

But we may have patience in the hope that some day a power, possessing more selfishness than the meanest student prides himself on having, will give him a rude jolt. And while we applaud, the "book snatcher" will read the empty air with pleas of mercy; we can almost see him groveling crying out: "Forgive me!"

And we can also hear the thundering response: "No!"

But we, the happy audience, will the louder applaud for we shall remember the suppliant as the "book snatcher."

Boil Him in Oil

The W. A. A., whose primary function seems to be hanging posters in the halls, has been complaining about the preponderance of male signatures on announcements of activities. There are men who have signed up to participate in creative dancing, croquet, folk dancing, and badminton.

The names, spurious of course, run the gamut from J. Fingus McDingus to Mustapha Child. This type of practical joking has been branded by Jenny Phillips as being a "dirty low-down trick," and something should be done about it.

The W. A. A. is not the only organization whose posters have been scribbled on. Every club, society, fraternity, or sorority that puts an announcement in the hall finds that the fountain pen fiend has visited it. Every dance announcement is sure to have Joseph College signed up for a table or two, and all Phi Lambda Chi tea notices are autographed by Fu Manchou or Son of Kong.

He is a very mysterious person, who lurks about the halls waiting, daring anyone to put up a poster. No one seems to know who or what he is, but by actual test it has been found that he gets in his dirty work five minutes after the sign has been put on the wall. He doesn't even let the tacks get cool.

An investigation is under way and when the culprit is found, so it is reported, he will be made to attend all the functions for which he has signed. We want to see justice done, folks, but don't you think this will be carrying it a little bit too far?

Personalities

Hello! Everybody! At this time the news of the "Big Broadcast" comes to you through the facilities of the International Relations Club, sponsored by Mrs. Bertha Monroe, who is our assistant professor of social science. This is Wesley Johnson, director and master of ceremonies.

During the securing and presentation of notable speakers and as chairman of dances, luncheons, and entertainments, I have found myself saying, "Never again!" However, so far as this semester's "Big Broadcast" is concerned, I'm quite at ease, because my chief assistants are Lynn Johnson, assistant director, and John Dower, stage manager.

It gives me great pleasure to introduce to you my aggregation of talented persons who are co-operating to make the "Big Broadcast" the high water mark in college and university entertainment.

Rev. H. A. Z. Razzo Le Bell, billed as the world's greatest organist, opened the Fox Theater, the greatest show house on earth.

Helen Frank, State's foremost esthetic dancer.

Bob Wall's Orchestra, formerly the Cavaliers.

Lee and Davis, the famous stage and night club dancers with the insane feet.

Mildred Roof and Juanita Van Slyke, State's greatest pianists.

The Three Brown Flashes, a famous song and dance group of stage fame.

Allene Barney, State's greatest singer of the operas.

Thelma Johnson, well known in the bay region for her dramatic ability.

"Duke" People's Orchestra, famous night club and dance group.

Dick Marsh and Allan Howard, of College Theater.

Manila String Quartet of radio fame. Rose Corrao, Helen Lofrano, Harold Edgcomb, Leonora Brongham, Shirley Finegold, and Nadezda Lawrence, new finds of State.

The presentation of the "Big Broadcast" has necessitated the expenditure of a large sum of money. Its success depends upon the support of the parents, faculty, and students.

Tickets, costing only twenty cents, are being sold in College Hall and the Co-op. Don't forget the date, April 2, or the place, Riviera Theater at Fillmore and Haight Streets, or the time, 12 to 2 p. m., or that 1 o'clock classes will be dismissed.

Yep. Cy, women are like that. If you haven't become acquainted with the new pass-words, you just don't rate.

Ask Berger Johnson or Harry Post about "Walla."

The phrase "key to the city" is only a figurative expression now, but once had a definite meaning.

In ancient times, cities were walled and approach was through huge gates. Thus it became a custom to extend a key to the gates to visitors in token of the fact that they were honored guests.

Ideas on How to Write a Novel:

Some ideas can be obtained from an account of Booth Tarkington's composition of "Monsieur Beaucaire."

He was extremely unsuccessful in his earliest literary attempts—continually receiving rejection slips.

Finally, a friend who seemed to be very successful asked Tarkington to illustrate a story for him.

The magazine, to which the friend's story was subsequently sold, failed, so Tarkington had the illustration on hand.

He dashed off a story to fit the illustration when nothing more important occupied his time—and immediately sold it.

So the formulae for success seems to be—make some good illustrations, write a story about them—and sell it—that's all! (Oh, yeah?)

Miscellaneous

By CLARICE DECHENT

PERHAPS it was the contraction of spring fever on the part of somebody or other that made folk think we'd gone suddenly subtle on them last week in titling an interview with a city notable "Wooden Leg."

To all who are misinformed and puzzled, forget it. It was just one of those commonly called typographical errors.

AND so-o-o-o-o, we are to discuss something slightly different this week: the coming debate on Eugene O'Neill. The question implies that the influence of O'Neill on the American people has been toward the good. State is taking the negative, and Montana the affirmative.

It is generally believed that the effect of O'Neill's plays has influenced drama beneficially. His works are representative of the traditional psychological drama of Strindberg—man's struggles with himself, rather than the pressure of society on the individual. A simple example of the man torn between two emotions may be cited as Evrinnov's "Theater of the Soul."

O'Neill is interested in picturing people from the lowest strata of society. This is quite in contrast to the earlier drama, which featured kings, princes, and nobility, and considered no one else important.

We all remember the stoker in the "Hairy Ape," and his other works featuring sailors, and the general proletariat. He follows the naturalistic school.

The debate itself is something every week—you all know how it is—I hope.

speech arts, English, or literary student should attend. It will certainly be an exciting evening.

WE mustn't forget that there are still five performances of the San Carlo Opera season. You will be fortunate, indeed, if you can manage to secure a ticket; but we advise you not to miss seeing one of them if you have the opportunity. From the record-breaking attendance since March 12, you can judge for yourself there must be a reason for it. So hurry yourself down to Sherman-Clay and you may still be able to secure a stray ticket for "Gloconda," "Tosca," "La Traviata," "Barber of Seville," or "Othello," at the amazingly low price of one dollar.

REFERRING to the work of our own College Theater, did you notice how up-to-date we were? Long before it was known that the motion picture, "Death Takes a Holiday," was coming to San Francisco, Miss Jessie D. Casebolt, dramatic director, held tryouts for the play of the same name. Rehearsals are well in progress now for our production.

And as a "special" treat, it is to be held on Friday, April 13; there are thirteen characters in the play, and the drama itself deals with death. Big doings at the Community Playhouse on that night. Be sure to come out.

Short column is due to mid-term week—you all know how it is—I hope.

On Other Campi

Professor Lowenberg of the University of California told this one to his philosophy class recently: Two little girls, aged five and seven, were talking earnestly.

"What," asked the younger, "is the sky?"

"There ain't any sky," came the reply.

The younger one deliberated. "Well," she asked again, "what is it that ain't?"

University of Washington professors insist that students who aim for "A" grades are barren of personality and that the great horde of "C" students move the world. Well, that's great news! The world must be moving in a big way around here.

On being accused of wearing his riding habit to bed, instead of his pajamas, a Valparaiso University student explains, "It's only an act of preparedness. I'm subject to nightmares."

These intriguing statements were made in a recent History 4B midterm at Cal:

"France became the alley of Frederick the Great."

"The 18th century was one of international immorality."

"Marco Polo brought back from China many stories and much jewelry."

At Northwestern, the co-eds who promised to remain faithful to their loves living far away, have organized a club and refuse all dates with university students. So far the group has grown to three members.

For a down payment of 25 cents, students of St. Thomas' College take out insurance policies against being called on in class. If the professor calls their name, they may collect five dollars.
